

Regarding the Sinclair Network's showing of the anti-Kerry "documentary" on October 19:

I am alarmed at Sinclair's mis-use of public property, our airwaves, for the airing of a partisan, unfair, untrue smear against John Kerry, just two weeks before the election. The timing does not allow Kerry time to respond.

If the Sinclair network is concerned with the public good, as they should be, they would be offering equal time to supporters of John Kerry.

I have long been disturbed by the inequity shown in the assigning of airwaves to conglomerates, which almost by definition do not serve their communities.

A responsible press, whatever the individual medium, is at the core of a democracy. Please fulfill your obligation when it is time for Sinclair to renew. A group that behaves in this high-handed, self-serving way should be denied a license.

Sincerely,

Carol Faris
